

Quick Tip for Office Efficiency

Plug office equipment, such as your computer, into a power strip that can be turned off at the end of each day. This will reduce the “vampire load” used by electronics, saving energy and money.