

Energy efficiency adds up to savings.

Learn how with a Home Energy Audit.

What is a Home Energy Audit?

A Home Energy Audit is the first step to saving energy and money on your energy bills.

An audit is conducted by a trained auditor who will assess how much energy your home uses, and then recommend measures you can take to improve the energy efficiency and safety of your home.

Xcel Energy offers Home Energy Audits to our residential customers at up to 70% less than the market value. Our partner, The Neighborhood Energy Connection, enlists professional, knowledgeable auditors who can provide a comprehensive plan to save energy (and money) that is customized for your home.

If you want to save money on your energy bills, enjoy a cozier, weatherized home, or just want to help reduce energy waste, sign up for a Home Energy Audit today. Select the audit that makes sense for you. We'll help you find your savings opportunities.

Home Walkthrough—$30

With the Home Walkthrough, the auditor will:

- Conduct a comprehensive whole house inspection
- Analyze insulation levels throughout the home
- Examine the age, efficiency and general condition of your mechanical systems
- Perform a basic analysis of your utility bills

Standard Audit—$60

The Standard Audit is our most comprehensive energy audit. An infrared camera is used with the blower door test to deliver a more precise diagnosis. It reveals the imperfections in your home's thermal envelope where heated or cooled air escapes (weather dependent). The Standard Audit includes:

- A better idea of what is happening behind your drywall and areas that can't be seen
- A view of temperature differences to see where insulation is present, missing or ineffective
- The development of more customized solutions to address airleaks, ice dams and overall conditioned air loss
