

Efficiency Controls Service Providers

Xcel Energy brings you Efficiency Controls rebates, which help you pay for building-system controls to make your building operate more efficiently and effectively. If you're interested in discovering how implementing a control system—or adding functionality to your existing system—can save you energy and money, you can contact one of the providers listed below or another provider of your choice. The service providers listed have recently completed a project through our Efficiency Controls rebate program.

PLEASE NOTE: This list does not constitute endorsement of these providers, nor does it certify or guarantee their work. These service providers are not employees or agents of Xcel Energy. All Efficiency Control projects require preapproval. Equipment and services recommended in an Efficiency Controls plan must meet our criteria to qualify for program incentives.
